

Definition of Procurement

This policy adopts the Sustainable Procurement Task Force¹ definition of procurement: “the process whereby organisations meet their needs for goods, services, works and utilities in a way that achieves value for money on a whole life basis in terms of generating benefits not only to the organisation, but also to society and the economy, whilst minimising damage to the environment”.

The Principles of Welsh Public Procurement Policy

In carrying out procurement activity the Welsh Public Sector in Wales is expected to adopt the following policy principles:

1. Strategic - Procurement should be recognised and managed as a strategic corporate function that organises and understands expenditure; influencing early planning and service design and involved in decision making to support delivery of overarching objectives.

How will this be achieved?

Welsh Government will: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• set out a ‘maturity model’, against which development of procurement can be measured across the Welsh public sector.• develop and fund Welsh Procurement Fitness Checks.	The Welsh public sector will: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• measure themselves against the maturity model, by undertaking regular Welsh Procurement Fitness Checks and reporting the recommendations and action plan progress to Welsh Government.

2. Professionally resourced – procurement expenditure should be subject to an appropriate level of professional involvement and influence, adopting the initial benchmark of a minimum of one procurement professional per £10m of expenditure.

How will this be achieved?

Welsh Government will: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• publish a competency framework setting out qualifications, experience and expertise that will support a structured procurement career.• provide routes to training and development, including those which enable public bodies to cultivate professional procurement expertise.	The Welsh public sector will: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• ensure adequate skills and resources are in place to carry out effective procurement and contract management.• have a procurement training plan which addresses resource and skills gaps and share this with Welsh Government to support future skills development strategy.

3. Economic, Social and Environmental Impact - Value for Money should be considered as the optimum combination of whole-of-life costs in terms of not only generating efficiency savings and good quality outcomes for the organisation, but also benefit to society and the economy, whilst minimising damage to the environment.

How will this be achieved?

Welsh Government will: <ul style="list-style-type: none">provide tools such as the Sustainable Risk Assessment to ensure that procurement decisions take account of long-term impact on the combination of benefits.	The Welsh public sector will: <ul style="list-style-type: none">apply these tools appropriately in their decision making process.Use the information generated by these tools to inform the annual returns to be required under the Sustainable Development Bill.

4. Community Benefits – delivery of added value through Community Benefits policy must be an integral consideration in procurement.

How will this be achieved?

Welsh Government will: <ul style="list-style-type: none">lead on maintaining and strengthening Community Benefits policy; strengthening support available on the ground and challenging the application.	The Welsh public sector will: <ul style="list-style-type: none">apply Community Benefits to all public sector procurements where such benefits can be realised.apply the Measurement Tool to all such contracts over £2m to capture and report outcomes to the Welsh Government.
